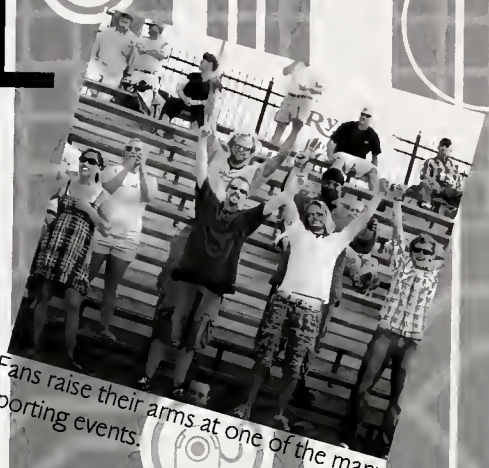
Dr. Pollard

: Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs
Mars Hill College

The student body and the faculty and staff at Mars Hill College would like to thank Dr. Pollard for all that she has done for us since her arrival at Mars Hill College. She has gone above and beyond the call of duty as Vice President of Academic and Student Affairs and we owe her a big debt of gratitude. We will always remember her fantastic speech at the Convocation Ceremony and how she made us all laugh with her funny jokes. Her last year here has been filled with laughs and tears as she says goodbye to dear friends and acquaintances.

Student (noun)

: a person engaged in learning especially one enrolled in school or college.



Fans raise their arms at one of the many sporting events.

Grace Kim, Kaitlyn Allen and Lacey Davis

Kara Ford, Chris Bailey, Alex Tempesta, Robbie Raber, Brandyn McCullum, Joe Fano, Micha Lane

Rachel Alexander, Britney Acosta and Meagan Green

Megan Gurthie, Victoria Franz, Becca Barker

Life (noun)

: the course of existence or sum of experiences and actions that constitute a person's existence

Tammy Olerud and Latalica Simpson

Kelli Elliott and Lindsay Schrenkel

Becca Sellars, Kayla Schieck, and Lucy Adkins

Student Life at Mars Hill College includes everything from being part of an athletic group to being a scholar. Each student has a unique way of dealing with the stresses of college life and work. Some sit on the quad and bask in the sunlight and others sit in the stacks doing homework. Every student finds their own place on the campus.

Summer (noun)

: a period of hot, usually sunny weather
: a time of relaxation without school

Josiah Larson in Brazil on a mission trip where kids learned how to play soccer and about Christ.

Kaitlyn Allen on one of her many adventures this summer.

Ben Little and Brittany Hazeldine at scholar retreat for Leo White and Church Leadership Scholars.

From the great monuments of Washington D.C. to the distant shores of Greece and Brazil, each student had a great time this past summer. We spent time with family and friends and learned new things about ourselves and others. Some worked with strangers who became friends and made differences in other peoples lives. Others worked to make and save money from their jobs for their futures. Whatever we did, we all had a great summer.

Alice Halliday went to Ecuador over the summer and met some cool animals.

Jenny Dawes and Kacie Cardwell on their Bonner trip to New York City to help with the homeless shelters and ministries.

SUMMER TIME

Lindsay Schrenkel worked at a soccer camp in Texas over the summer and made lots of new friends.

Robbie Raber, Chris Bailey, Michael Smith, and Joe Fano at Stackhouse.

Monica Green and Sarah Lomax in Washington D.C.

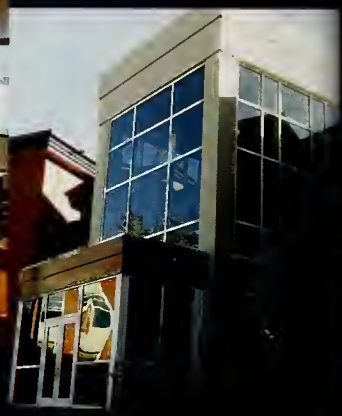
Ferguson Building

The Ferguson Math and Science Building was dedicated on June 7th, 2008 in honor of Dr. Carolyn H. Ferguson and Dr. Jack R. Ferguson from Candler, North Carolina. The Ferguson Math and Science Center has classrooms, lab rooms, offices, and a computer lab for computer science students. Students and teachers alike appreciate the new environment to learn and teach.



Ponder Atrium

The Ponder Atrium was dedicated on June 7, 2008 in honor of Elizabeth and J.C. Ponder who graduated in 1943 and are from Greer, SC. The Atrium was built on J.C. Ponder's boyhood home and was given to the college in 2003. The Atrium features nice sitting areas on each floor with tables and chairs, ideal for studying and doing homework.

Residence Life Staff

The Residence Life Office works continuously to provide living areas that are pleasant, enjoyable, comfortable and safe. Therefore, we have developed a program designed to create a sense of community and to meet the educational, social, recreational, cultural and developmental needs of residents. To achieve our goals, our student staff relies on designing events and activities in the residence halls that reach students on all levels of development.

Superhero
Role model for the community

The theme this year for Homecoming was superheroes prompting CAB to sponsor a "So You Think You're a Superhero" contest in which students dressed up as different kinds of superheroes and stated their case on why they were the best superhero. In the end, however, only one rose to the top to become a superhero, James Johnson.
